The Long Island Home: Two Facilities with One Goal

Since 1882, The Long Island Home, a not-for-profit organization operating South Oaks Hospital, a comprehensive behavioral health continuum and Broadlawn Manor Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, a comprehensive long term and sub-acute care continuum have been a vital part of the healthcare in the Long Island community. Their operating mission is “We Care for People”, which strives to provide the very best in healthcare and customer satisfaction, in all areas of service delivery. A key area in customer satisfaction at The Long Island Home for their nearly 500 daily patients, residents’ families, and staff is laundry.

For over 30 years, Milnor washer-extractors and dryers have played a role in securing a healthy environment for their residents and patients to heal and to thrive. Milnor’s gentle processing and durable laundry machinery are efficient, sanitary, clean, and fresh. With properly cleaned bed linens and personal clothing, residents are able to focus on getting and staying well.

The installed laundry equipment is: one 48040 F7J suspended open-pocket washer-extractor (275 lb. capacity), two 42032 X7J washer-extractors (165 lb. capacity each), one 30022 V6J rigid mount washer-extractor (60 lb. capacity), and three M170 gas dryers (170 lb. capacity each). Also, the laundry boasts eight Milnor M3131 stack dryers and one M50SL steam dryer used for the residents' personal clothing.

The laundry staff includes eight full-time employees daily, who process the property's various healthcare linens using the four Milnor washers and three Milnor dryers in 35-40 loads per day.

Direct Machinery, Long Island Home's authorized full-line Milnor distributor, sold and installed the facility's new equipment. Direct Machinery's President Ron Hirsch announced, "The Long Island Home had Milnor washers from 1978 that provided excellent service for almost 30 years! Their great experience with these durable machines had a major influence in their once again purchasing the Milnor washer-extractors."
